A claim may also be forfeited if the miners license has run out and has not been renewed, or if the annual fee has not been prepaid in the case of a licensee who is the holder of more than one claim, or if a sum of 150 has not been expended upon it in actual mining work. No more than one claim may be staked out upon the same vein, lode or deposit of ore by an individual licensee, unless it is distant at least sixty chains from the nearest known mine, claim or discovery on the same vein or lode; but no licensee may stake out and record in the same mining division more than four claims in one calendar year within a radius of fifteen miles, and for each additional claim after the first a fee of 10 is required. A licensee who is the holder of five claims or less within a radius of one mile may carry on all mining operations demanded by the Act upon one of them, or different persons holding claims within a radius of one mile may combine to expend all operations on one claim for every five claims or less. When the working conditions have been complied with for a period of four years on a claim of 20 chains square, or for three years on a claim of 15 chains square or less, or when an equivalent...
